TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF YOUR ACCOUNT

AGREEMENT - This document, along with any other documents we give you pertaining to your account(s), including, but not limited to, the Internet Banking Service Agreement, Website Terms & Conditions, and Terms for Zelle Network® Users, if applicable, is a contract (also referred to as "this agreement") that establishes rules which control your account(s) with us. Please read this document carefully and retain this document and any other documents we give you pertaining to your account for future reference. If you open the account (whether in-person, electronically, or by any other method permitted by us) or continue to use the account after receiving a notice of a change to this agreement, including but not limited to additions of new terms or removal of terms, a change or amendment to any terms of this agreement, you agree to these rules. We will provide you notice of any change, addition, removal or amendment of any terms of this agreement no less than thirty (30) days before the effective date of the change, addition, removal or amendment unless the addition, removal, amendment or change was made for security reasons or we believe would be beneficial or not adverse to you. You will receive separate documents setting forth rates, qualifying balances for accounts or products, and fees if they are not included in this agreement. If you have any questions, please ask us.

This agreement is subject to applicable federal laws, the laws of the state of the branch in which your account is located and other applicable rules such as the operating letters of the Federal Reserve Banks and payment processing system rules (except to the extent that this agreement can and does vary such rules or laws). The body of state and federal law that governs our relationship with you, however, is too large and complex to be reproduced here. The purpose of this agreement is to:

- (1) summarize some laws that apply to common transactions;
- (2) establish rules to cover transactions or events which the law does not regulate;
- (3) establish rules for certain transactions or events which the law regulates but permits variation by agreement; and
- (4) give you disclosures of some of our policies to which you may be entitled or in which you may be interested.

If any term of this agreement is found to be unenforceable, all remaining terms will continue in full force and effect. We may permit some variations from our standard agreement, but we must agree to any variation in writing either on the signature card for your account or in some other document. Nothing in this agreement is intended to vary our duty to act in good faith and with ordinary care when required by law.

As used in this agreement the words "we," "our," and "us" mean the financial institution and the words "you" and "your" mean the account holder(s) and anyone else with the authority to deposit, withdraw, or exercise control over the funds in the account. However, this agreement does not intend, and the terms "you" and "your" should not be interpreted, to expand an individual's responsibility for an organization's liability. If this account is owned by a corporation, partnership or other organization, individual liability is determined by the laws generally applicable to that type of organization. As used in this agreement, the term "days" means calendar days, unless expressly stated otherwise in this agreement. The headings in this agreement are for convenience or reference only and will not govern the interpretation of the terms of this agreement. Unless it would be inconsistent to do so, words and phrases used in this agreement should be construed so the singular includes the plural and the plural includes the singular. Throughout this document, when a term is identified as being applicable to a certain state (for example, "in Colorado"), it means that the term is only applicable if your account is held at a branch located in that particular state. Any term which is not described as applying to a particular state, applies to your account.

In Arizona, Colorado, Montana, Nevada, and Texas, "Party" means a person who, by the terms of an account, has a present right, subject to request, to payment from the account other than as a beneficiary or agent.

LIABILITY - You agree, for yourself (and the person or entity you represent if you sign as a representative of another) to the terms of this agreement and the Fee Schedule. You authorize us to deduct these fees, without notice to you, directly from the account balance as accrued. You will pay any additional reasonable charges for services you request which are not covered by this agreement.

Each of you also agrees to be jointly and severally (individually) liable for any account shortage, whether due to fees, overdrafts, deposits, withdrawals, or any other reason. This liability is due immediately, and we can deduct any amounts deposited into the account and apply those amounts to the shortage. You have no right to defer payment of this liability, and you are liable regardless of whether you signed the item or benefited from the fees, overdrafts, deposits, or withdrawals.

You will be liable for our costs as well as for our reasonable attorneys' fees, to the extent permitted by law, whether incurred as a result of collection or in any other dispute involving your account. This includes, but is not limited to, disputes between you and another joint owner; you and an authorized signer or similar party; or a third party claiming an interest in your account. This also includes any action that you or a third party takes regarding the account that causes us, in good faith, to seek the advice of an attorney, whether or not we become involved in the dispute. All costs and attorneys' fees can be deducted from your account when they are incurred, without notice to you.

DEPOSITS - We will give only provisional credit for any items, other than cash, we accept for deposit (including items drawn "on us") including, but not limited, to credits to your account through Zelle. Provisional credit means that we credit your account with the amount of the item deposited, but we have not yet been paid by the payor bank for that item or we have been paid but the time for the payor bank to seek recovery for an item has not yet expired. Until we have been paid and the time for the payor bank to seek recovery for an item has expired, settlement is not final. Before settlement of any item becomes final, we act only as your agent, regardless of the form of indorsement or lack of indorsement on the item and even though we provide you provisional credit for the item and made the funds from that item available to you. We may, at any time, reverse any provisional credit, charge back the amount of any credit given for the item, or obtain refund from you for the item, regardless of the reason the item is returned unpaid or the payor obtains recovery. We may also reverse or charge back to your account the amount of any item deposited to your account or cashed for you which was initially paid by the payor bank and which is later returned to us due to an allegedly forged, unauthorized or missing indorsement, claim of alteration, encoding error, counterfeit cashier's check or other problem which in our judgment justifies reversal of credit or charge back to your account. You authorize us to attempt to collect previously returned items without giving you notice, and in attempting to collect we may permit the payor bank to hold an item beyond the midnight deadline. Credit for deposits of, or payable in, foreign currency will be at the exchange rate in effect on final settlement in U.S. dollars. We are not responsible for transactions by mail or outside depository until we record them. If you deliver a deposit to us and you will not be present when the deposit is counted, you must provide us an itemized list of the deposit (deposit slip). To process the deposit, we will verify and record the deposit, and provisionally credit the deposit to the account. If there are any discrepancies between the amounts shown on the itemized list of the deposit and the amount we determine to be the deposit, we will notify you of the discrepancy. You will be entitled to provisional credit only for the deposit as determined by us, regardless of what is stated on the itemized deposit slip. We will treat and record all transactions received after our "daily cutoff time" on a business day we are open, or received on a day we are not open for business, as if initiated on the next business day that we are open. At our option, we may take an item for collection rather than for deposit. If we accept a third-party check or draft for deposit, we may require any third-party indorsers to verify or guarantee their indorsements, or indorse in our presence. We reserve the right to refuse, return or limit any deposits you make to your account.

WITHDRAWALS -

Accounts where more than one person can withdraw - Unless clearly indicated otherwise on the account records, any of you, acting alone, who signs to open the account or has authority to make withdrawals may withdraw or transfer all or any part of the account balance at any time. Each of you (until we receive written notice to the contrary) authorizes each other person who signs to open the account or has authority to make withdrawals to indorse any item payable to you or your order for deposit to this account or authorize any other transaction with us.

Postdated checks - A postdated check is one which bears a date later than the date on which the check is written. We may properly pay and charge your account for a postdated check even though payment was made before the date of the check, unless we have received written notice of the postdating in time to have a reasonable opportunity to act. Because we process checks mechanically, your notice will not be effective and we will not be liable for failing to honor your notice unless it precisely identifies the number, date, amount and payee of the item.

Checks not purchased from us, forms not approved by us, and withdrawal frequency and amounts - If you do not purchase your check blanks from us, you must be certain that we approve the check blanks you purchase. We may refuse to honor any checks written on check blanks not approved by us. We may refuse any withdrawal or transfer request which you attempt on forms not approved by us or by any method we do not specifically permit. We may refuse any withdrawal or transfer request which is greater in number than the frequency permitted by us, or which is for an amount greater or less than any withdrawal limitations. We will use the date the transaction is completed by us (as opposed to the date you initiate it) to apply any frequency limitations. In addition, we may place limitations on the account until your identity is verified.

Nonconforming request and substitute checks - Even if we honor a nonconforming request, we are not required to do so later. If you violate the stated transaction limitations (if any), in our discretion we may close your account or reclassify your account as another type of account. If we reclassify your account, your account will be subject to the fees and earnings rules of the new account classification.

If we are presented with an item drawn against your account that would be a "substitute check," as defined by law, but for an error or defect in the item introduced in the substitute check creation process, you agree that we may pay such item. For information on errors relating to a substitute check you received, refer to your disclosure entitled Substitute Checks and Your Rights.

Cash withdrawals - We recommend you take care when making large cash withdrawals because carrying large amounts of cash may pose a danger to your personal safety. As an alternative to making a large cash withdrawal, you may want to consider a cashier's check or similar instrument. You assume full responsibility of any loss in the event the cash you withdraw is lost, stolen, or destroyed. You agree to hold us harmless from any loss you incur as a result of your decision to withdraw funds in the form of cash.

Multiple signatures, electronic check conversion, and similar transactions - An electronic check conversion transaction is a transaction where a check or similar item is converted into an electronic fund transfer as defined in the Electronic Fund Transfers regulation. In these types of transactions the check or similar item is either removed from circulation (truncated) or given back to you. As a result, we have no opportunity to review the signatures or otherwise examine the original check or item. You agree that, as to these or any items as to which we have no opportunity to review the signatures or otherwise examine the original check or item, you waive any requirement of multiple signatures.

Notice of withdrawal - We reserve the right to require not less than 7 days' notice in writing before each withdrawal from an interest-bearing account, other than a time deposit or demand deposit, or from any other savings deposit as defined by Regulation D. (The law requires us to reserve this right, but it is not our practice to use it.) Withdrawals from a time account prior to maturity or prior to any notice period may be restricted and may be subject to penalty. See your separately provided notice of penalty for early withdrawal.

Funds availability - Please see our funds availability disclosure for information on when different types of deposits will be made available for withdrawal. For those accounts to which our funds availability disclosure does not apply, you can ask us when you make a deposit when those funds will be available for withdrawal. Please remember that even after we have made funds available to you from a deposit you made or item you cashed and you have withdrawn funds, received cash, or directed us to wire, move, or transfer in any manner funds we have made available to you, an item may be returned to us unpaid or other problems may develop involving the item. We may, therefore, reverse any provisional credit, charge back your account or obtain refund from you for the amount withdrawn, cash received, or amount you directed us to wire, move, or transfer in any manner, regardless of the reason the item is returned unpaid or any other problem involving the deposit or that we made the funds available to you. We are not responsible for and will not investigate or refund money for transactions that you authorize and initiate, even if you were fraudulently induced to make or mistakenly made a deposit or payment.

UNDERSTANDING OVERDRAFT FEES AND NONSUFFICIENT FUNDS (NSF) -

Generally - The information in this section is being provided to help you understand what happens if your account is overdrawn. Understanding how your account becomes overdrawn is important and can help you avoid being assessed fees. Your account is overdrawn when there is not enough money in your account's "current balance" (which also may be called ledger balance on some ATMs) to pay an item at the time it is posted or submitted to us for payment. When your account is overdrawn, you may be assessed fees, including, but not limited to, Overdraft Fees and Continuous Overdraft Fees. Our Fee Schedule sets forth Overdraft Fees, Continuous Overdraft Fees and other fees.

Overdrafts - An overdraft occurs when there is not enough money in your account's current balance to pay for an item when it "posts" or is submitted to us for payment, but we pay the item anyway. An Overdraft Fee is not charged when the amount of the item is two ($2.00) dollars or less. An Overdraft Fee is not charged when the current balance after posting each item is overdrawn ten ($10.00) dollars or less. For debit card transactions and ATM withdrawals that were pre-authorized with a positive current balance and post with a negative current balance, no Overdraft Fee will be charged. Other than debit card transactions and ATM withdrawals that were pre-authorized with a positive balance and post with a negative balance, if we pay the item and you do not have overdraft services (described below), then we will charge you an Overdraft Fee. We pay overdrafts at our discretion. The fact that we may pay items that overdraw your account does not obligate us to do so in the future. So you can NOT rely on us to pay overdrafts on your account, regardless of how frequently or under what circumstances we have paid overdrafts on your account in the past. We can change our practice of paying, or not paying, overdrafts without notice to you. Our practice is to authorize and pay overdrafts for checks, other items, automatic bill payments, and recurring debit card transactions. We do not authorize and pay overdrafts for ATM transactions and everyday debit card transactions, unless you ask us to. We will assess an Overdraft Fee (as applicable) if an item is presented to us and paid, even if the same item was previously presented and rejected. An Overdraft Fee is not the same as a Continuous Overdraft Fee. We charge a Continuous Overdraft Fee for each business day your account is overdrawn, regardless of the transaction which causes the overdraft, if the account remains overdrawn for more than five consecutive business days. We charge this Continuous Overdraft Fee even if it was a fee (such as an Overdraft Fee) that caused your account to be overdrawn. We also charge this Continuous Overdraft Fee if it was a debit card transaction request or an ATM withdrawal that was pre-authorized with a positive current balance and posts with a negative current balance that caused your account to be overdrawn.

For consumer accounts, we do not charge Overdraft Fees for ATM transactions and nonrecurring/one-time debit card payment transactions that are not authorized or are declined due to insufficient available balance.

We may use subsequent deposits, including, but not limited to, direct deposits of social security or other government benefits, to pay or reduce negative balances in your account created by overdrafts and Overdraft, Continuous Overdraft or other fees.

Nonsufficient Funds - Nonsufficient funds occur when an item drafted by you (including, but not limited to, a check transaction) or a transaction you set up (including, but not limited to, a preauthorized transfer, mobile payment, automated clearing house (ACH) transaction) is presented for payment in an amount that is more than your account's current balance, and we decide not to pay the item. If we reject and do not pay an item based on an insufficient current balance, then you will not be charged an NSF Fee. Be aware that some items (checks, ACH payments, bill payments and certain recurring debit card payments) may be presented for payment multiple times after they have been rejected.

We may determine the amount of funds in your account's current balance for the purpose of deciding whether to return an item for non-sufficient funds at any time between the times we receive the item and when we return the item or send a notice in lieu of return. We need only make one determination for each item, but if we choose to make a subsequent determination for each item, the amount of funds in your account's current balance at the time of the subsequent determination will determine whether your account has insufficient funds to pay the item.

Overdraft Services - We have overdraft services that may be less expensive than fees assessed for an overdrawn account. If you qualify and authorize this service, we can transfer funds from a line of credit to pay items which would otherwise cause your account to be overdrawn or to pay items that would otherwise be rejected for non-sufficient funds. There is no fee associated with the transfer from a line of credit, but you will be charged interest in accordance with the line of credit agreement. You can also authorize us to transfer funds from a savings, money market, or other account to prevent your account from becoming overdrawn or to pay items that would otherwise be rejected for non-sufficient funds. If you have overdraft services, we will attempt to use those services before we pay an item or reject or decline an item.

Maximum Daily Number of Overdraft Fees - You will not be charged more than a total of five (5) Overdraft Fees and one (1) Continuous Overdraft Fee per business day for any one account.

The best way to know how much money you have and avoid paying Overdraft or Continuous Overdraft Fees is to record and track all of your transactions closely.

Payment Types - Some, but not necessarily all, of the ways you can access the funds in your account include, but are not limited to, preauthorized transfers, debit card transactions, mobile payments, ACH transactions, and check transactions. A debit card transaction might be authorized by use of a PIN or a signature. Debit card transactions can be either nonrecurring/one-time or recurring transactions. We rely upon the merchant's classification of a debit card payment transaction as either a recurring or nonrecurring/one-time transaction. Your only recourse for an incorrect classification is with the merchant. An example of a nonrecurring/one-time debit card transaction would be if you use your debit card to purchase a meal at a restaurant. An example of a recurring debit card transaction would be where you have given permission to a business to automatically deduct, on a regularly scheduled basis, a payment such as a cable bill, cell phone bill, utility bill or subscription. An example of an ACH transaction is a preauthorized payment you have set up on a recurring basis. All these payment types use different processing systems and some may take more or less time to post against your account. This information is important. Keeping track of the checks you write and the timing of the preauthorized payments you set up, debit card transactions, mobile payments, and ACH transactions will help you to know what other items might still post against your account.

Balance information - Keeping track of your balance is important. You can review your balance in a number of ways including reviewing your periodic statement, reviewing your balance online, accessing your account information by phone, or coming into one of our branches.

Important information regarding "decoupled" cards - Decoupled debit cards are debit cards offered or issued by an institution or merchant other than us. As part of the issuing process, you provide the decoupled debit card issuer with the information it needs to link the decoupled debit card to your account with us. Once this is done, you can typically use the decoupled debit card as you would any other debit card. Importantly, however, while transactions initiated with these decoupled debit cards may originate as debit card transactions paid by the card issuer, we receive and process them as ACH transactions. Additionally, you need to refer to your agreement with the decoupled debit card issuer to understand the terms of use for that card. Thus, when our documentation refers to "debit cards," "everyday debit card transactions," or "one-time debit card transactions," we are referring to debit cards issued by us, not decoupled debit cards issued by other institutions or merchants. Different payment types can use different processing systems and some may take more or less time to post. Knowing which card you are using and how the transaction is processed can help you manage your finances, including helping you to avoid overdraft or NSF fees.

A temporary debit card authorization hold affects your account balance

On debit card purchases, merchants may request a temporary hold on your account for a specific sum of money when the merchant does not know the exact amount of the purchase at the time the card is authorized. The amount of the temporary hold may be different (more or less) than the exact amount of your purchase. Some common transactions where this occurs involve purchases of gasoline, hotel rooms, or meals at restaurants. When this happens, our processing system cannot determine that the amount of the hold exceeds the exact amount of your purchase. This temporary hold will reflect as a "Pre auth" in online and mobile banking or as a "Memo Debit" on a temporary account statement until the transaction has either posted as described in the Posted Transactions section or three business days have passed since the temporary hold was placed and the merchant has not requested payment. The amount charged to your account will eventually be adjusted to the exact amount of your purchase, but it could be three business days, or even longer in some cases, before the adjustment is made. Until the adjustment is made or three business days have passed since the temporary hold was placed and the merchant has not requested payment, the amount of funds in your account available for other transactions will be reduced by the amount of the temporary hold. If three business days have passed since the temporary hold was placed and the merchant has not requested payment, the temporary hold for that purchase will be removed from your account and your available balance will be increased by the amount of the temporary hold. However, if after three business days, the merchant requests payment, that amount will be paid to the merchant and the available and current balances in your account will be reduced and adjusted by the exact amount of the purchase.

Posted Transactions

"Posted" means a deposit has been credited to your account or a payment has been deducted from your account. Even though the current balance and available balance of your account is reduced by the amount of a pre-authorized transaction at the time the merchant requests and we approve the pre-authorization, the transaction is not posted to your account until the merchant requests payment for that transaction from us.

Your Checking Account Balance - Your checking account has two balances: the "current" balance and the "available" balance. Both can be checked when you review your account online, on our mobile banking app, at an ATM, or at a branch. It is important to understand how the two balances work so that you know how much money is in your account at any given time.

Your current balance is the full amount of all deposits, even though some portion of a deposit may be on hold and may not be available to you, less payment transactions that have posted to your account. Preauthorized debit card transactions are debited from your current balance, but, until posted, preauthorized debit card transactions will not result in an Overdraft Fee.

Your available balance is the amount of money in your account that is available for withdrawal. This is the current account balance less holds on deposits. Additionally, the available balance shown may include your savings account, overdraft line of credit and/or home equity line of credit (HELOC) balance. We use available balance at the time debit card transaction requests and ATM withdrawals are made to us to decide whether to pre-authorize them for payment. We use current balance at the time all types of items are posted to decide whether to charge Overdraft Fees, with the exception of debit card transaction requests and ATM withdrawals that were pre-authorized with a positive current balance and post with a negative current balance. No Overdraft Fee will be charged when a debit card transaction or ATM withdrawal was authorized on a positive current balance, but posts with a negative current balance. However, this type of transaction will still result in an overdraft which could result in a Continuous Overdraft Fee. The following are two examples that illustrate how this works:

In the first example, assume your current and available balances are both $100, and you use your debit card at a restaurant for $60. As a result, your available balance will be reduced by $60 so your available balance is $40. Your current balance is also reduced by $60 so your current balance is $40. Before the restaurant charge is submitted to us for payment (which could be that day or even a few days later) and is posted, a check that you wrote for $115 is posted to your account. Because you had a current balance of $40, your account will be overdrawn after the $115 check is posted and you will be assessed an Overdraft Fee for that $115 check transaction. When the $60 restaurant charge is later submitted to the Bank for payment and posted to your account, you will not be assessed an Overdraft Fee for the $60 restaurant charge because it was authorized with a positive current balance. However, your account will still be overdrawn which could result in a Continuous Overdraft Fee if the current balance in your account is not brought positive within five business days.

In the second example, assume your current and available balances are both $100, and you use your debit card at a restaurant for $60. As a result, your available balance will be reduced by $60 so your available balance is $40. Your current balance is also reduced by $60 so your current balance is $40. Before the restaurant charge is submitted to us for payment (which could be that day or even a few days later), a check that you wrote for $70 is posted to your account. Your account will not be overdrawn after the $70 check is posted and you will not be assessed an Overdraft Fee for that $70 check transaction because the $60 restaurant charge has not yet posted to your account. When the $60 restaurant charge is later submitted to the Bank for payment and posted to your account, you will not have enough money in your current balance because of the previously posted $70 check, but you will not be charged an Overdraft Fee for the $60 restaurant charge, because your available current balance was positive when the $60 restaurant charge was authorized. However, your account will still be overdrawn which could result in a Continuous Overdraft Fee if the current balance in your account is not brought positive within five business days.

The best way to know how much money you have and avoid paying Overdraft or Continuous Overdraft Fees is to record and track all of your transactions closely.

OWNERSHIP OF ACCOUNT AND BENEFICIARY DESIGNATION

These rules apply to this account depending on the form of ownership and beneficiary designation, if any, specified on the account records. We reserve the right to refuse some forms of ownership and beneficiary designations on any or all of our accounts unless otherwise prohibited by law. We make no representations as to the appropriateness or effect of the ownership and beneficiary designations, except as they determine to whom we pay the account funds.

In Arizona, Colorado and Nevada, Rights at Death - Single-Party Account - At the death of a party, ownership passes as part of the party's estate.

Single-Party Account - Such an account is owned by one party.

Multiple-Party Account - Parties own account in proportion to net contributions unless there is clear and convincing evidence of a different intent.

Multiple-Party Account With Right of Survivorship - At death of party, ownership passes to surviving parties. If two or more parties survive and one is the surviving spouse of the deceased party, the amount to which the deceased party, immediately before death, was beneficially entitled by law belongs to the surviving spouse. STOP PAYMENTS

The rules in this section cover stopping payment of items such as checks and drafts. Rules for stopping payment of other types of transfers of funds, such as consumer electronic fund transfers, may be established by law. If we have not disclosed these rules to you elsewhere, you may ask us about those rules.

In Arizona, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Utah, Washington, and Wyoming - We may accept an order to stop payment on any item from any one of you. You must make any stop-payment order in the manner required by law and we must receive it in time to give us a reasonable opportunity to act on it before our stop-payment cutoff time. Because the most effective way for us to execute a stop-payment order is by using an automated process, to be effective, your stop-payment order must precisely identify the number, date, and amount of the item, and the payee. You may stop payment on any item drawn on your account whether you sign the item or not. Generally, if your stop-payment order is given to us in writing it is effective for six months. Your order will lapse after that time if you do not renew the order in writing before the end of the six-month period. If the original stop-payment order was oral your stop-payment order will lapse after 14 calendar days if you do not confirm your order in writing within that time period. We are not obligated to notify you when a stop-payment order expires.

If you stop payment on an item and we incur any damages or expenses because of the stop payment, you agree to indemnify us for those damages or expenses, including attorneys' fees. You assign to us all rights against the payee or any other holder of the item. You agree to cooperate with us in any legal actions that we may take against such persons. You should be aware that anyone holding the item may be entitled to enforce payment against you despite the stop-payment order.

Our stop-payment cutoff time is one hour after the opening of the next business day after the business day on which we receive the item. Additional limitations on our obligation to stop payment are provided by law (e.g., we paid the item in cash or we certified the item).

In Nevada - We may accept an order to stop payment on any item from any one of you. You must make any stop-payment order in the manner required by law and we must receive it in time to give us a reasonable opportunity to act on it before our stop-payment cutoff time. You may stop payment on any item drawn on your account whether you sign the item or not. Your stop-payment order is effective for six months if it is given to us in writing or by another type of record. (Generally, a "record" is information that is stored in such a way that it can be retrieved and can be heard or read and understood – you can ask us what type of stop-payment records you can give us.) Your order will lapse after that time if you do not renew the order in writing before the end of the six-month period. If the original stop-payment order was oral your stop-payment order will lapse after 14 calendar days if it is not confirmed in writing or by another type of record within that time period. You must make any stop-payment order in the manner required by law; it must be made in a dated, authenticated record that describes the item with certainty. (Generally, a "record" is information that is stored in such a way that it can be retrieved and can be heard or read and understood – you can ask us what type of stop-payment records you can give us.) We must receive it in time to give us a reasonable opportunity to act on it before our stop-payment cutoff time. Our stop-payment cutoff time is one hour after the opening of the next banking day after the banking day on which we receive the item. Additional limitations on our obligation to stop payment are provided by law (e.g., we paid the item in cash or we certified the item).

TELEPHONE TRANSFERS - A telephone transfer of funds from this account to another account with us, if otherwise arranged for or permitted, may be made by the same persons and under the same conditions generally applicable to withdrawals made in writing. Limitations on the number of telephonic transfers from a savings account, if any, are described elsewhere.

AMENDMENTS AND TERMINATION - We may add terms to or remove terms from this agreement. We may also change, including but not limited to adding new terms, removing terms, and amending any term of this agreement. For such additions, removals, amendments or changes, we will give you reasonable notice in writing or by any other method permitted by law, but not less than thirty (30) days before the effective date of the addition, removal, amendment or change unless the addition, removal, amendment or change was made for security reasons or we believe would be beneficial or not adverse to you. If we have notified you of an addition, removal, amendment or change of a term to this agreement and you continue to have your account after the effective date of the addition, removal, amendment, or change, you have agreed to the addition, removal, amendment or change of terms. We may close your account without prior notice to you if your account has a zero balance for a period of 90 consecutive days or 731 consecutive days for health savings accounts. We may also suspend or terminate a service or close this account for any other reason at any time upon reasonable notice to you. If we close the account, we will tender the account balance to you personally or send the account balance to you at your last known address as reflected in our account records. Reasonable notice depends on the circumstances, and in some cases, such as when we cannot verify your identity or we suspect fraud, disputes between account owners, or irregular activity of any kind, it might be reasonable for us to give you notice after the change or account closure becomes effective. For instance, if we suspect fraudulent activity, disputes between account owners, or irregular activity of any kind, with respect to your account, we might immediately freeze or close your account and then give you notice. Unless expressly provided otherwise in your account agreement and except for changing the ownership or beneficiaries of the account, any one of you can make changes to your account (including closing the account) without the consent of the other owners and notice of a change to your account by any one of you to us is notice to us by all of you. To change the ownership or beneficiaries of the account, all owners must provide us written consent to the change in ownership or beneficiaries. Rules governing changes in interest rates are provided in the Truth-in-Savings disclosure or in another document. In addition, for changes governed by a specific law or regulation, we will follow the specific timing and format notice requirements of those laws or regulations.

When you close your account, you are responsible for leaving enough money in the account to pay any outstanding items to be paid from the account. Items presented for payment after the account is closed may be dishonored.

CORRECTION OF CLERICAL ERRORS - Unless otherwise prohibited by law, you agree, if determined necessary in our reasonable discretion, to allow us to correct clerical errors, such as obtaining your missing signature, on any account documents or disclosures that are part of our agreement with you. For errors on your periodic statement, please refer to the STATEMENTS section.

NOTICES - Any written notice you give us is effective when we actually receive it, and it must be given to us according to the specific delivery instructions provided elsewhere, if any. We must receive any notice in time to have a reasonable opportunity to act on it. If a notice is regarding a check or other item, you must give us sufficient information to be able to identify the check or item, including the precise check or item number, amount, date and payee. Notice we give you via the United States Mail is effective when it is deposited in the United States Mail with proper postage and addressed to your mailing address we currently have on file. Notice we give you through your email of record, or other electronic method to which you agreed, will be treated as delivered to you when sent. Notice to any of you is notice to all of you.

STATEMENTS

In Arizona, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, Texas, Utah, Washington, and Wyoming Your duty to report unauthorized signatures (including forgeries and counterfeit checks) and alterations on checks and other items - You must examine your statement of account with "reasonable promptness." If you discover (or reasonably should have discovered) any unauthorized signatures or alterations (including, but not limited to, forgeries and counterfeit checks), you must promptly notify us of the relevant facts. As between you and us, if you fail to do either of these duties, you will have to either share the loss with us, or bear the loss entirely yourself (depending on whether we used ordinary care and, if not, whether we substantially contributed to the loss). The loss could be not only with respect to items on the statement but other items with unauthorized signatures or alterations by the same wrongdoer.

For purposes of this section of the agreement, "reasonable promptness" means that you agree that the time you have to examine your statement and report to us will depend on the circumstances, but will not, in any circumstance, exceed a total of 30 days from when the statement is first sent or made available to you.

You further agree that if you fail to report any unauthorized signatures or alterations in your account within 60 days of when we first send or make the statement available, you cannot assert a claim against us on any items in that statement, and as between you and us the loss will be entirely yours. This 60-day limitation is without regard to whether we used ordinary care. The limitation in this paragraph is in addition to that contained in the first paragraph of this section.

Your duty to report other errors or problems - In addition to your duty to review your statements for unauthorized signatures and alterations, you agree to examine your statement with reasonable promptness for any other error or problem - such as an encoding error or an unexpected deposit amount. Also, if you receive or we make available either your items or images of your items, you must examine them for any unauthorized or missing indorsements or any other problems. You agree that the time you have to examine your statement and items and report to us will depend on the circumstances. However, this time period shall not exceed 60 days. Failure to examine your statement and items and report any errors to us within 60 days of when we first send or make the statement available precludes you from asserting a claim against us for any errors on items identified in that statement and as between you and us the loss will be entirely yours.

Errors relating to electronic fund transfers or substitute checks - For information on errors relating to electronic fund transfers (e.g., online, mobile, debit card or ATM transactions) refer to your Electronic Fund Transfers disclosure and the sections on consumer liability and error resolution. For information on errors relating to a substitute check you received, refer to your disclosure entitled Substitute Checks and Your Rights.

Duty to notify if statement not received - You should notify us if your statement is not received.

REIMBURSEMENT OF FEDERAL BENEFIT PAYMENTS - If we are required for any reason to reimburse the federal government for all or any portion of a benefit payment that was directly deposited into your account, you authorize us to deduct the amount of our liability to the federal government from the account or from any other account you have with us, without prior notice and at any time, except as prohibited by law. We may also use any other available legal remedy to recover the amount of our liability.

TEMPORARY ACCOUNT AGREEMENT - If the account documentation indicates that this is a temporary account agreement, each person who signs to open the account or has authority to make withdrawals (except as indicated to the contrary) may transact business on this account. However, we may at some time in the future restrict or prohibit further use of this account if you fail to comply with the requirements we have imposed within a reasonable time.

In Arizona, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, Utah, Washington and Wyoming, SETOFF - We may (without prior notice and when permitted by law) set off the funds in this account against any due and payable debt any of you owe us now or in the future. If this account is owned by one or more of you as individuals, we may set off any funds in the account against a due and payable debt a partnership owes us now or in the future, to the extent of your liability as a partner for the partnership debt. If your debt arises from a promissory note, then the amount of the due and payable debt will be the full amount we have demanded, as entitled under the terms of the note, and this amount may include any portion of the balance for which we have properly accelerated the due date.

This right of setoff does not apply to this account if prohibited by law. For example, the right of setoff does not apply to this account if: (a) it is an Individual Retirement Account or similar tax-deferred account, or (b) the debt is created by a consumer credit transaction under a credit card plan (but this does not affect our rights under any consensual security interest), or (c) the debtor's right of withdrawal only arises in a representative or fiduciary capacity. We will not be liable for the dishonor of any check when the dishonor occurs because we set off a debt against this account. You agree to hold us harmless from any claim arising as a result of our exercise of our right of setoff.

In Texas, SETOFF - We may (without prior notice and when permitted by law) set off the funds in this account against any due and payable debt any of you owe us now or in the future. If this account is owned by one or more of you as individuals, we may set off any funds in the account against a due and payable debt a partnership owes us now or in the future, to the extent of your liability as a partner for the partnership debt. If your debt arises from a promissory note, then the amount of the due and payable debt will be the full amount we have demanded, as entitled under the terms of the note, and this amount may include any portion of the balance for which we have properly accelerated the due date.

This right of setoff does not apply to this account if prohibited by law. For example, the right of setoff does not apply to this account if: (a) it is an Individual Retirement Account or similar tax-deferred account, or (b) the debt is created by a consumer credit transaction under a credit card plan (but this does not affect our rights under any consensual security interest), or (c) the debtor's right of withdrawal only arises in a representative capacity, or (d) the debt is created by a home equity loan. We will not be liable for the dishonor of any check when the dishonor occurs because we set off a debt against this account. You agree to hold us harmless from any claim arising as a result of our exercise of our right of setoff.

POSTING ORDER OF ITEMS - We have chosen to divide checks and other items presented for payment from your account into different categories. If multiple items are presented for payment on the same business day, we sort the items by category before posting them to your account at the end of the day. The manner in which we sort these items has an impact on the number of Overdraft Fees you may be assessed.

Generally, we post transactions to your account in the following order: First, deposits and credits received before the deposit cutoff are posted. Second, ATM withdrawals and debit card transactions that have been received for payment are posted in chronological order, if known. Items which are not chronologically identified are posted lowest to highest dollar amount after chronologically identified items are posted. Third, automatic electronic withdrawals (such as your cable bill, insurance payment, wire transfers or checks without a check number that have been converted to electronic items) are sorted by transaction type and then posted lowest to highest dollar amount for the same types of transactions. Fourth, customer requested withdrawals and automatic transfers to other accounts with us (such as telephone and internet banking transfers, loan payments and prearranged transfers) and bank initiated withdrawals (such as corrections, charge backs, tax withholding and closing entries) are sorted by transaction type and then posted lowest to highest dollar amount for the same types of transactions. Finally, we post checks and electronic bill pay items in check number order (check numbers larger than 10 digits are posted based on the last ten digits of the check number).

CHECK PROCESSING - We process items mechanically by relying almost exclusively on the information at the bottom of the items. This means that we do not individually examine your items to determine if the item is properly completed, signed and indorsed or to determine if it contains any information other than what is at the bottom of the item. You agree that we have exercised ordinary care if our automated processing is consistent with general banking practice, even though we do not inspect each item. Because we do not inspect each item, if you write a check to multiple payees, we can properly pay the check regardless of the number of indorsements unless you notify us in writing that the check requires multiple indorsements. Using an automated process helps us keep costs down for you and all account holders.

CHECK CASHING - We may charge a fee for anyone that does not have an account with us who is cashing a check, draft or other instrument written on your account. We may also require reasonable identification to cash a check, draft or other instrument. We can decide what identification is reasonable under the circumstances and such identification may be documentary or physical and may include collecting a thumbprint or fingerprint.

TRUNCATION, SUBSTITUTE CHECKS, AND OTHER CHECK IMAGES - If you truncate an original check and create a substitute check, or other paper or electronic image of the original check, you warrant that no one will be asked to make payment on the original check, a substitute check or any other electronic or paper image, if the payment obligation relating to the original check has already been paid. You also warrant that any substitute check you create conforms to the legal requirements and generally accepted specifications for substitute checks. You agree to retain the original check in conformance with our policy requirement for retaining original checks. You agree to indemnify us for any loss we may incur as a result of any truncated check transaction you initiate. We can refuse to accept substitute checks that have not previously been warranted by a bank or other financial institution in conformance with the Check 21 Act. Unless specifically stated in a separate agreement between you and us, we do not have to accept any other electronic or paper image of an original check.

REMOTELY CREATED CHECKS - Like any standard check or draft, a remotely created check (sometimes called a telecheck, preauthorized draft or demand draft) is a check or draft that can be used to withdraw money from an account. Unlike a typical check or draft, however, a remotely created check is not issued by the paying bank and does not contain the signature of the account owner (or a signature purported to be the signature of the account owner). In place of a signature, the check usually has a statement that the owner authorized the check or has the owner's name typed or printed on the signature line.

You warrant and agree to the following for every remotely created check we receive from you for deposit or collection: (1) you have received express and verifiable authorization to create the check in the amount and to the payee that appears on the check; (2) you will maintain proof of the authorization for at least 2 years from the date of the authorization, and supply us the proof if we ask; and (3) if a check is returned you owe us the amount of the check, regardless of when the check is returned. We may take funds from your account to pay the amount you owe us, and if there are insufficient funds in your account, you still owe us the remaining balance.

UNLAWFUL INTERNET GAMBLING NOTICE - Restricted transactions as defined in Federal Reserve Regulation GG are prohibited from being processed through this account or relationship. Restricted transactions generally include, but are not limited to, those in which credit, electronic fund transfers, checks, or drafts are knowingly accepted by gambling businesses in connection with the participation by others in unlawful Internet gambling.

FUNDS TRANSFERS - Unless otherwise required by applicable law, such as Regulation J or the operating circulars of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, this agreement is subject to Article 4A of the Uniform Commercial Code - Fund Transfers as adopted in the state in which you have your account with us. If you originate a fund transfer and you identify by name and number a beneficiary financial institution, an intermediary financial institution or a beneficiary, we and every receiving or beneficiary financial institution may rely on the identifying number to make payment. We may rely on the number even if it identifies a financial institution, person or account other than the one named. You agree to be bound by automated clearing house association and other funds-transfer system rules, as applicable. These rules provide, among other things, that payments made to you, or originated by you, are provisional until final settlement is made through a Federal Reserve Bank or payment is otherwise made as provided in Article 4A-403(a) of the Uniform Commercial Code. If we do not receive such payment, we are entitled to a refund from you in the amount credited to your account and the party originating such payment will not be considered to have paid the amount so credited. Credit entries may be made by ACH or other funds-transfer systems. If we receive a payment order to credit an account you have with us by wire or ACH, we are not required to give you any notice of the payment order or credit.

INTERNATIONAL ACH TRANSACTIONS - Financial institutions are required by law to scrutinize or verify any international ACH transaction (IAT) that they receive against the Specially Designated Nationals (SDN) list of the Office of Foreign Assets Control (OFAC). This action may, from time to time, cause us to temporarily suspend processing of an IAT and potentially affect the settlement and/or availability of such payments.

FACSIMILE SIGNATURES - Unless you make advance arrangements with us, we have no obligation to honor facsimile signatures on your checks or other orders. If we do agree to honor items containing facsimile signatures, you authorize us, at any time, to charge you for all checks, drafts, or other orders, for the payment of money, that are drawn on us. You give us this authority regardless of by whom or by what means the facsimile signature(s) may have been affixed so long as they resemble the facsimile signature specimen filed with us, and contain the required number of signatures for this purpose. You must notify us at once if you suspect that your facsimile signature is being or has been misused.

AGENTS AND POWERS OF ATTORNEY - On a power of attorney form acceptable to us, you may appoint an agent ("Agent") to act for you on your account. Unless expressly stated otherwise in the power of attorney form which you provide to us, we presume that the Agent is designated to conduct transactions on your behalf and is authorized by you for all purposes relating to the account, including, but not limited to, endorsing items, stopping payments (including stopping items issued by you), and making deposits and withdrawals. Unless expressly stated otherwise in the power of attorney form which you provide to us, we presume that the Agent does not have the right to close the account or modify or change the ownership or beneficiaries of your account. Your Agent does not acquire any ownership rights, and you, as owner, do not give up any right to act on your account. You are responsible for the transactions of the Agent. We will not undertake and have no obligation to monitor the transactions performed by your Agent. We may refuse to recognize an Agent or comply with a power of attorney for reasonable cause. You may terminate your Agent's authority at any time. Your Agent's authority is automatically terminated upon your death. Additionally, if the power of attorney you granted to your Agent is not "durable," the power of attorney is revoked when you become incapacitated or incompetent. We are authorized to continue to honor the transactions of the Agent until: (a) we receive written notice or have actual knowledge of the termination or revocation of the power of attorney, and (b) we have a reasonable opportunity to act on that notice or knowledge.

RESTRICTIVE LEGENDS OR INDORSEMENTS - The automated processing of the large volume of checks we receive prevents us from inspecting or looking for restrictive legends, restrictive indorsements or other special instructions on any check. For this reason, we are not required to honor any restrictive legend or indorsement or other special instruction placed on checks you write unless we have agreed in writing to the restriction or instruction. Unless we have agreed in writing, we are not responsible for any losses, claims, damages, or expenses that result from your placement of these restrictions or instructions on your checks. Examples of restrictive legends placed on checks are "must be presented within 90 days" or "not valid for more than $1,000.00." The payee's signature accompanied by the words "for deposit only" is an example of a restrictive indorsement.

ACCOUNT TRANSFER - This account may not be transferred or assigned without our prior written consent.

INDORSEMENTS - We may accept for deposit any item payable to you or your order, even if they are not indorsed by you. We may give cash back to any one of you. We may supply any missing indorsement(s) for any item we accept for deposit or collection, and you warrant that all indorsements are genuine.

To ensure that your check or share draft is processed without delay, you must indorse it (sign it on the back) in a specific area. Your entire indorsement (whether a signature or a stamp) along with any other indorsement information (e.g. additional indorsements, ID information, driver's license number, etc.) must fall within 1 1/2" of the "trailing edge" of a check. Indorsements must be made in blue or black ink, so that they are readable by automated check processing equipment.

As you look at the front of a check, the "trailing edge" is the left edge. When you flip the check over, be sure to keep all indorsement information within 1 1/2" of that edge.

It is important that you confine the indorsement information to this area since the remaining blank space will be used by others in the processing of the check to place additional needed indorsements and information. You agree that you will indemnify, defend, and hold us harmless for any loss, liability, damage or expense that occurs because your indorsement, another indorsement, or information you have printed on the back of the check obscures our indorsement.

These indorsement guidelines apply to both personal and business checks.

DEATH OR INCOMPETENCE - You agree to notify us promptly if any person with a right to withdraw funds from your account(s) dies or is adjudicated (determined by the appropriate official) incompetent. We may continue to honor your checks, items, and instructions until: (a) we know of your death or adjudication of incompetence, and (b) we have had a reasonable opportunity to act on that knowledge. You agree that we may pay or certify checks drawn on or before the date of death or adjudication of incompetence for up to ten (10) days after your death or adjudication of incompetence unless ordered to stop payment by someone claiming an interest in the account.

FIDUCIARY ACCOUNTS - Fiduciary accounts are deposit accounts established by a person or entity acting in a fiduciary capacity for the benefit of one or more other parties. The individual or entity opening a fiduciary account does not have an ownership interest in the funds deposited in the fiduciary account. A fiduciary may include, but is not limited to, a trustee, a custodian, a representative payee, or a conservator. Fiduciary accounts include, but are not limited to, uniform transfers to minors act accounts, estate accounts, trust accounts, representative payee accounts, conservatorship accounts, and real estate and other escrow and security deposit accounts. We are not responsible for the actions or inactions of a fiduciary, including, but not limited to, the misuse of funds. You understand that by opening such a fiduciary account, we are not acting in the capacity of a fiduciary in connection with the fiduciary account nor do we undertake any obligation to monitor or enforce the terms or conditions applicable to the fiduciary who opened the account. If an account is identified as a fiduciary account in the Account Agreement for the account, it is not subject to our right of setoff and is not subject to execution, levy, or garnishment against the fiduciary.

CREDIT VERIFICATION - You agree that we may verify credit and employment history by any necessary means, including preparation of a credit report by a credit reporting agency.

LEGAL ACTIONS AFFECTING YOUR ACCOUNT - If we are served with a subpoena, restraining order, writ of attachment or execution, levy, garnishment, search warrant, or court or similar order relating to your account (termed "legal action" in this section), we will comply with that legal action as required by applicable law. However, nothing in this agreement shall be construed as a waiver of any rights you may have under applicable law with regards to such legal action. Subject to applicable law, we may, in our sole discretion, choose to freeze the assets in the account and not allow any payments or transfers out of the account, or take other action as may be appropriate under the circumstances, until there is a final court determination regarding the legal action. We may do these things even if the legal action involves less than all of you. In these cases, we will not have any liability to you if there are insufficient funds to pay your items because we have withdrawn funds from your account or in any way restricted access to your funds in accordance with the legal action and applicable law. Any fees or expenses we incur in responding to any legal action (including, without limitation, attorneys' fees, and our internal expenses) may be charged against your account, unless otherwise prohibited by applicable law. The list of fees applicable to your account(s) - provided elsewhere - may specify additional fees that we may charge for responding to certain legal actions.

ACCOUNT SECURITY -

Your Duty to protect account information and methods of access - Our policy may require methods of verifying your identity before providing you with a service or allowing you access to your account. We can decide what identification is reasonable under the circumstances. For example, process and identification requirements may vary depending on whether they are online or in person. Identification may be documentary or physical and may include collecting a fingerprint, voiceprint, or other biometric information. It is your responsibility to protect the account numbers and electronic access devices (e.g., an ATM card) we provide you for your accounts. You should also safeguard your username, password, and other access and identifying information when accessing your account through a computer or other electronic, audio, or mobile device or technology. If you give anyone authority to access the account on your behalf, you should exercise caution and ensure the trustworthiness of that agent. Do not discuss, compare, or share information about your account numbers with anyone unless you are willing to give them full use of your money. An account number can be used by thieves to issue an electronic debit or to encode your number on a false demand draft which looks like and functions like an authorized check. If you furnish your access device or information and grant actual authority to make transfers to another person (a family member, coworker, or Agent for example) who then exceeds that authority, you are liable for the transfers unless we have been notified that transfers by that person are no longer authorized. Your account number can also be used to electronically remove money from your account, and payment can be made from your account even though you did not contact us directly and order the payment. You must also take precaution in safeguarding your blank checks. Notify us at once if you believe your checks have been lost or stolen. As between you and us, if you are negligent in safeguarding your checks, you must bear the loss entirely yourself or share the loss with us (we may have to share some of the loss if we failed to use ordinary care and if we substantially contributed to the loss).

Positive pay and other fraud prevention services - Except for consumer electronic fund transfers subject to Regulation E, you agree that if we offer you services appropriate for your account to help identify and limit fraud or other unauthorized transactions against your account, and you reject those services, you will be responsible for any fraudulent or unauthorized transactions which could have been prevented by the services we offered. You will not be responsible for such transactions if we acted in bad faith or to the extent our negligence contributed to the loss. Such services include positive pay or commercially reasonable security procedures. If we offered you a commercially reasonable security procedure which you reject, you agree that you are responsible for any payment order, whether authorized or not, that we accept in compliance with an alternative security procedure that you have selected. The positive pay service can help detect and prevent check fraud and is appropriate for account holders that issue a high volume of checks, a lot of checks to the general public, or checks for large dollar amounts.

INSTRUCTIONS FROM YOU - Unless required by law or we have agreed otherwise in writing, we are not required to act upon instructions you give us via facsimile transmission, email, voicemail, or phone call to a facsimile number, email address, or phone number not designated by us for a particular purpose or for a purpose that is unrelated to the request or instruction.

MONITORING AND RECORDING TELEPHONE CALLS AND ACCOUNT COMMUNICATIONS - Subject to federal and state law, we may monitor or record phone calls for security reasons, to maintain a record, and to ensure that you receive courteous and efficient service. You consent in advance to any such recording.

To provide you with the best possible service in our ongoing business relationship for your account, we may need to contact you about your account from time to time by telephone, text messaging, or email. In contacting you about your account, we may use any telephone numbers or email addresses that you have previously provided to us by virtue of an existing business relationship or that you may subsequently provide to us.

You acknowledge that the number we use to contact you may be assigned to a landline, a paging service, a cellular wireless service, a specialized mobile radio service, other radio common carrier service, or any other service for which you may be charged for the call. You acknowledge that we may contact you by voice, voicemail, or text messaging. You further acknowledge that we may use pre-recorded voice messages, artificial voice messages, or automatic telephone dialing systems.

If necessary, you may change or remove any of the telephone numbers, email addresses, or other methods of contacting you at any time using any reasonable means to notify us.

CLAIM OF LOSS - The following rules do not apply to a transaction or claim related to a consumer electronic fund transfer governed by Regulation E (e.g., an every day/one-time consumer debit card or ATM transaction). The error resolution procedures for consumer electronic fund transfers can be found in our initial Regulation E disclosure generally titled, "Electronic Fund Transfers." For other transactions or claims, if you claim a credit or refund because of a forgery, alteration, or any other unauthorized withdrawal, you agree to cooperate with us in the investigation of the loss, including giving us an affidavit containing whatever reasonable information we require concerning your account, the transaction, and the circumstances surrounding the loss. You will notify law enforcement authorities of any criminal act related to the claim of lost, missing, or stolen checks or unauthorized withdrawals. We will have a reasonable period of time to investigate the facts and circumstances surrounding any claim of loss. Unless we have acted in bad faith, we will not be liable for special or consequential damages, including loss of profits or opportunity, or for attorneys' fees incurred by you.

You agree that you will not waive any rights you have to recover your loss against anyone who is obligated to repay, insure, or otherwise reimburse you for your loss. You will pursue your rights or, at our option, assign them to us so that we may pursue them. Our liability will be reduced by the amount you recover or are entitled to recover from these other sources.

EARLY WITHDRAWAL PENALTIES (and involuntary withdrawals) - We may impose early withdrawal penalties on a withdrawal from a time account even if you don't initiate the withdrawal. For instance, the early withdrawal penalty may be imposed if the withdrawal is caused by our setoff against funds in the account or as a result of an attachment or other legal process. We may close your account and impose the early withdrawal penalty on the entire account balance in the event of a partial early withdrawal. See your separately provided notice of penalty for early withdrawal for additional information.

CHANGES IN NAME AND CONTACT INFORMATION - You are responsible for notifying us of any change in your name, address, or other information we use to communicate with you. Unless we agree otherwise, notice of such a change must be made in writing. Informing us of your address or name change on a check reorder form is not sufficient. We will attempt to communicate with you only by use of the most recent information you have provided to us. If provided elsewhere, we may impose a service fee if we attempt to locate you.

RESOLVING ACCOUNT DISPUTES - We may place an administrative hold on the funds in your account (refuse payment or withdrawal of the funds) if (1) it becomes subject to a claim adverse to (a) your own interest, (b) others claiming an interest as survivors or beneficiaries of your account, or (c) a claim arising by operation of law; or (2) we cannot verify your identity or we suspect fraud; (3) there are disputes between account owners; or (4) there is irregular activity of any kind in your account. The hold may be placed for such period of time as we believe reasonably necessary to allow a legal proceeding, including, but not limited to, arbitration, to determine the merits of the claim or until we receive evidence satisfactory to us that the dispute has been resolved. We will not be liable for any items that are dishonored as a consequence of placing a hold on funds in your account for these reasons.

WAIVER OF NOTICES - To the extent permitted by law, you waive any notice of non-payment, dishonor or protest regarding any items credited to or charged against your account. For example, if you deposit an item and it is returned unpaid or we receive a notice of nonpayment, we do not have to notify you unless required by federal Regulation CC or other law.

LIMITATION OF TIME TO COMMENCE ACTION - Unless elsewhere provided in this document or other documents pertaining to our account, any action or proceeding by you to enforce an obligation, duty or right arising under this agreement or by law with respect to your account or any account service must be commenced within one year after the cause of action accrues.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION ABOUT DEPOSIT INSURANCE COVERAGE

Glacier Bank is a family of community bank divisions operating in the Rocky Mountain states. Each division has a unique name that reflects our deep ties to the communities we serve. Divisions of Glacier Bank are not separately FDIC insured. The combined amounts you have on deposit with Glacier Bank and its associated divisions listed in the Privacy Notice, are all considered insured by the same depository institution, namely Glacier Bank. Basic FDIC insurance coverage for deposit accounts (checking, savings, money market and certificate of deposit) is $250,000.

You may qualify for more than $250,000 in coverage at Glacier Bank and its associated divisions if you own deposit accounts in different ownership categories. The most common categories for individual and family deposits are single accounts, joint accounts, revocable trust accounts, and certain retirement accounts. A representative at your local branch will be able to discuss account options and additional products such as depositing through the Promontory Network Certificate of Deposit Account Registry Service (CDARS) program.

For information on insurance coverage limits on your accounts at Glacier Bank and how to qualify for more insurance coverage, visit the FDIC's website, <https://fdic.gov>. The FDIC also has an easy-to-use online tool called EDIE (Electronic Deposit Insurance Estimator) The Estimator. To access EDIE The Estimator, go to <https://www.fdic.gov/edie/calculator.html>.

CONSUMER ELECTRONIC FUND TRANSFERS YOUR RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES

The Electronic Fund Transfers we are capable of handling for consumers are indicated below some of which may not apply to your account. Some of these may not be available at all terminals. Please read this disclosure carefully because it tells you your rights and obligations for these transactions. You should keep this document and any other documents we give you pertaining to your account(s) for future reference.

Types of Transfers, Frequency and Dollar Limitations

Electronic Fund Transfers Initiated By Third Parties. You may authorize a third party to initiate electronic fund transfers between your account and the third party's account. These transfers to send or make or receive payment may be one-time occurrences or may recur as directed by you. These transfers may use the Automated Clearing House (ACH) or other payments network. These transfers may also be through the Zelle Network®. Your authorization to the third party to make these transfers can occur in a number of ways. For example, your authorization to convert a check to an electronic fund transfer or to electronically pay a returned check charge can occur when a merchant provides you with notice and you go forward with the transaction (typically, at the point of purchase, a merchant will post a sign and print the notice on a receipt). In all cases, these third party transfers will require you to provide the third party with your account number and bank information. This information can be found on your check as well as on a deposit or withdrawal slip. Thus, you should only provide your bank and account information (whether over the phone, the Internet, or via some other method) to trusted third parties whom you have authorized to initiate these electronic fund transfers. Examples of these transfers include, but are not limited to:

- Preauthorized credits. You may make arrangements for certain direct deposits to be accepted into your checking or savings account(s).

Currency Conversion. When you use your Visa® Debit Card at a merchant that settles in currency other than US dollars, the charge will be converted into the US dollar amount. The currency conversion rate used to determine the transaction amount in US dollars is either a rate selected by Visa from the range of rates available in wholesale currency markets for the applicable central processing date, which rate may vary from the rate Visa itself receives, or the government-mandated rate in effect for the applicable central processing date. The conversion rate in effect on the processing date may differ from the rate in effect on the transaction date or posting date.

VAU helps participating merchants who receive recurring payments from your card have access to current card account information on file. You may opt out at any time.

- Liability for failure to stop payment of preauthorized transfer. If you order us to stop one of these payments 3 business days or more before the transfer is scheduled, and we do not do so, we will be liable for your losses or damages.

Financial Institution's Liability

Liability for failure to make transfers. If we do not complete a transfer to or from your account on time or in the correct amount according to our agreement with you, we will be liable for your losses or damages. However, there are some exceptions. We will not be liable, for instance:

- (1) If, through no fault of ours, you do not have enough money in your account to make the transfer.
- (2) If you have an overdraft line and the transfer would go over the credit limit.
- (3) If the automated teller machine where you are making the transfer does not have enough cash.
- (4) If the terminal or system was not working properly and you knew about the breakdown when you started the transfer.
- (5) If circumstances beyond our control including, but not limited to, interruption of telecommunication service, catastrophic or emergency conditions, or a natural disaster (such as fire or flood) prevent the transfer, despite reasonable precautions that we have taken.
- (6) There may be other exceptions stated in our agreement with you.

Confidentiality

We will disclose information to third parties about your account or the transfers you make:

- (1) where it is necessary for completing transfers; or
- (2) in order to verify the existence and condition of your account for a third party, such as a credit bureau or merchant; or
- (3) in order to comply with court orders and legal investigations; or
- (4) if you give us written permission; or
- (5) as explained in the Privacy Notice.

Unauthorized Transfers

(In Arizona, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, Texas, Utah, Washington, and Wyoming)

(a) Consumer liability. Tell us AT ONCE if you believe your card, code, Internet Banking PIN, user name, password, or other means of accessing your accounts has been lost, stolen or discovered by an unauthorized person, or if you believe that an electronic fund transfer has been made without your permission. Telephoning is the best way of keeping your possible losses down. You could lose all the money in your account (plus your maximum overdraft line of credit). If you tell us within 2 business days after you learn of the loss or theft of your card and/or code, you can lose no more than $50 if someone used your card, code, Internet Banking PIN, user name, password, or other means of accessing your accounts has been lost, stolen or discovered by an unauthorized person, or if you believe that an electronic fund transfer has been made without your permission.

If you do NOT tell us within 2 business days after you learn of the loss or theft of your card, code, Internet Banking PIN, user name, password, or other means of accessing your accounts has been lost, stolen or discovered by an unauthorized person, or if you believe that an electronic fund transfer has been made and we can prove we could have stopped someone from using your card, code, Internet Banking PIN, user name, password, or other means of accessing your accounts has been lost, stolen or discovered by an unauthorized person, or if you believe that an electronic fund transfer has been made without your permission if you had told us, you could lose as much as $500.

Also, if your statement shows transfers that you did not make, including those made by card, code or other means, tell us at once. If you do not tell us within 60 days after the statement was mailed to you, or was provided electronically if you consented to receiving the statement that way you may not get back any money you lost after the 60 days if we can prove that we could have stopped someone from taking the money if you had told us in time.

• Additional Limits on Liability for Visa® Debit Card. Unless you have been negligent or have engaged in fraud, you will not be liable for any unauthorized transactions using your lost or stolen Visa® Debit Card. In the event these additional limits do not apply (e.g., if you have been negligent or engaged in fraud) the liability limits of Regulation E (described above) apply. This additional limit on liability does not apply to ATM transactions outside of the U.S., to ATM transactions not sent over Visa or Plus networks, or to transactions using your Personal Identification Number which are not processed by VISA®. Visa is a registered trademark of Visa International Service Association.

Telephoning is the best way of keeping your possible losses down. If the unauthorized use of your lost or stolen card and/or code occurs through no fault of yours, no liability will be imposed on you. Otherwise, you will be liable for the lesser of:

FUNDS AVAILABILITY DISCLOSURE YOUR ABILITY TO WITHDRAW FUNDS

(Consumer and Business Accounts)

This disclosure applies to deposits made at a branch, ATM, or a night depository, or through a mobile device, remote deposit scanner or commercial mobile remote deposit application. It also applies to electronic direct deposits. Our policy is to make funds from your cash and check deposits made at a branch, or by a mobile device available to you on the same day you make the deposit under normal circumstances if the deposit is made on a business day. Electronic direct deposits will be available on the business day we receive credit. Deposits made remotely by a remote deposit scanner or our commercial mobile remote deposit application will normally be available the first business day after we receive the deposit.

For ATM deposits made on a business day before our cut-off time, the first $3,500 of checks deposited will be made available on the same business day you make the deposit under normal circumstances and the funds in excess of $3,500 will be made available the first business day after we receive the deposit. Cash deposited at an ATM on a business day will be available the same business day you make the deposit under normal circumstances.

If we cash a check for you that is drawn on another bank, we may withhold the availability of a corresponding amount of funds that are already in your account. Those funds will be available at the time funds from the check we cashed would have been available if you had deposited it.

Please remember that even after we have made funds available to you from a deposit you made or item you cashed and you have withdrawn funds, received cash, or directed us to wire, move, or transfer in any manner funds we have made available to you, an item may be returned to us unpaid or other problems may develop involving the item. We may, therefore, reverse any provisional credit, charge back your account or obtain refund from you for the amount withdrawn, cash received, or amount you directed us to wire, move, or transfer in any manner, regardless of the reason the item is returned unpaid or any other problem involving the deposit or that we made the funds available to you. We are not responsible for and will not investigate or refund money for transactions that you authorize and initiate, even if you were fraudulently induced to make or mistakenly made a deposit or payment.

For purposes of this disclosure, "business day" means any day except Saturdays, Sundays, and federal holidays. If you make a deposit through one of our branch tellers, ATM, mobile device or remote deposit scanner, or by mail received by us before our cut-off time, we will consider that day to be the business day of your deposit. However, if you make a deposit after our cut-off time or on a day that is not a business day, we will consider the deposit as being made on the next business day that we are open. Our cut-off time for branches will not be earlier than 4:00 PM but may vary by location. The cut-off time for ATMs will not be earlier than 12:00 PM but may vary by location. The cut-off time for mobile device or remote deposit scanner is 6:00 PM mountain time. Deposits made through our night depository after 6:00 AM may be processed on the next business day.

Longer Delays May Apply

Case-by-case delays. In some cases, we will not make all of the funds that you deposit by check available to you immediately. Depending on the type of check that you deposit, funds may not be available until the second business day after the business day of your deposit. However, the first $275 of your deposits will be available immediately.

If we are not going to make all of the funds from your deposit available immediately, we will notify you at the time you make your deposit. We will also tell you when the funds will be available. If your deposit is not made directly to one of our employees, or if we decide to take this action after you have left the premises, we will mail you the notice by the business day after we receive your deposit.

If you will need the funds from a deposit right away, you should ask us when the funds will be available.

Exception holds. In addition, funds you deposit by check may be delayed for a longer period under the following circumstances:

We believe a check you deposit will not be paid.

You deposit checks totaling more than $6,725 on any one day.

You redeposit a check that has been returned unpaid.

You have overdrawn your account repeatedly in the last six months.

There is an emergency, such as failure of computer or communications equipment.

We will notify you if we delay your ability to withdraw funds for any of these reasons, and we will tell you when the funds will be available. They will generally be available no later than the seventh business day after the day of your deposit.

Special Rules For New Accounts

If you are a new customer, the following rules may apply during the first 30 days your account is open.

Funds from electronic direct deposits to your account will be available on the day we receive the deposit. Funds from deposits of cash, wire transfers, and the first $6,725 of a day's total deposits of cashier's, certified, teller's, traveler's, and federal, state and local government checks will be available on the first business day after the day of your deposit if the deposit meets certain conditions. For example, the checks must be payable to you (and you may have to use a special deposit slip). The excess over $6,725 will be available on the ninth business day after the day of your deposit. If your deposit of these checks (other than a U.S. Treasury check) is not made in person to one of our employees, the first $6,725 will not be available until the second business day after the day of your deposit. If we choose to delay your ability to withdraw funds, we will notify you when the funds will be available.

Funds from all other check deposits to your new account may be available on the ninth business day after the day of your deposit if we choose to delay your ability to withdraw funds. If we choose to delay making these funds available to you, we will notify you when the funds will be available.

SUBSTITUTE CHECKS AND YOUR RIGHTS

(Consumer and Business Accounts)

What is a substitute check?

To make check processing faster, federal law permits banks to replace original checks with "substitute checks." These checks are similar in size to original checks with a slightly reduced image of the front and back of the original check. The front of a substitute check states: "This is a legal copy of your check. You can use it the same way you would use the original check." You may use a substitute check as proof of payment just like the original check.

Some or all of the checks that you receive back from us may be substitute checks. This notice describes rights you have when you receive substitute checks from us. The rights in this notice do not apply to original checks or to electronic debits to your account. However, you have rights under other law with respect to those transactions.

What are my rights regarding substitute checks?

In certain cases, federal law provides a special procedure that allows you to request a refund for losses you suffer if a substitute check is posted to your account (for example, if you think that we withdrew the wrong amount from your account or that we withdrew money from your account more than once for the same check). The losses you may attempt to recover under this procedure may include the amount that was withdrawn from your account and fees that were charged as a result of the withdrawal (for example, bounced check fees).

The amount of your refund under this procedure is limited to the amount of your loss or the amount of the substitute check, whichever is less. You also are entitled to interest on the amount of your refund if your account is an interest-bearing account. If your loss exceeds the amount of the substitute check, you may be able to recover additional amounts under other law.

If you use this procedure, you may receive up to $2,500 of your refund (plus interest if your account earns interest) within 10 business days after we received your claim and the remainder of your refund (plus interest if your account earns interest) not later than 45 calendar days after we received your claim.

We may reverse the refund (including any interest on the refund) if we later are able to demonstrate that the substitute check was correctly posted to your account.

How do I make a claim for a refund?

If you believe that you have suffered a loss relating to a substitute check that you received and that was posted to your account, please contact us using the contact information section of this document.

You must contact us within 40 calendar days of the date that we mailed (or otherwise delivered by a means to which you agreed) the substitute check in question or the account statement showing that the substitute check was posted to your account, whichever is later. We will extend this time period if you were not able to make a timely claim because of extraordinary circumstances.

Your claim must include —

- A description of why you have suffered a loss (for example, you think the amount withdrawn was incorrect);
- An estimate of the amount of your loss;
- An explanation of why the substitute check you received is insufficient to confirm that you suffered a loss; and
- A copy of the substitute check or the following information to help us identify the substitute check: check number, date of check, amount of check and to whom the check was written.

ARBITRATION PROVISION

You and Glacier Bank (the "Bank") agree that we shall attempt to informally settle any and all disputes, controversies, or claims arising out of, affecting, or relating to your deposit accounts with the Bank (hereafter referred to as the "Claims"). Attempts to informally settle the Claims shall include a written exchange of information describing the Claims, the basis for the Claims, and the relief sought, and then an in-person meeting (or a meeting by Zoom or similar electronic means) to discuss, in good faith, potential resolution of the Claims. If the Claims cannot be resolved informally, then you agree that any and all Claims that are threatened, made, filed or initiated shall, at the election of either you or the Bank, be resolved by binding arbitration administered by the American Arbitration Association ("AAA") or National Arbitration and Mediation ("NAM") in accordance with those entities' applicable rules and procedures for consumer disputes ("Rules"), including rules applicable to mass arbitrations, whether such Claims are in contract, tort, statute, or otherwise. The Rules can be obtained on the AAA and NAM websites free of charge at www.adr.org and www.namadr.com. Either you or the Bank may elect to resolve a particular Claim through arbitration, even if one of us has already initiated litigation in court related to the Claim, by: (a) making written demand for arbitration upon the other party, (b) initiating arbitration against the other party, or (c) filing a motion to compel arbitration in court. AS A RESULT, IF EITHER YOU OR THE BANK ELECTS TO RESOLVE A PARTICULAR CLAIM THROUGH ARBITRATION, YOU WILL GIVE UP YOUR RIGHT TO GO TO COURT TO ASSERT OR DEFEND YOUR RIGHTS UNDER THIS ARBITRATION PROVISION (EXCEPT FOR CLAIMS BROUGHT INDIVIDUALLY WITHIN SMALL CLAIMS COURT JURISDICTION OR COMPARABLE COURT OF LIMITED MONETARY JURISDICTION, SO LONG AS THE CLAIM REMAINS IN SMALL CLAIMS COURT OR COMPARABLE COURT OF LIMITED MONETARY JURISDICTION). Notwithstanding the law that may govern your account agreement or any state law to the contrary, this Arbitration Provision shall be interpreted and enforced in accordance with the Federal Arbitration Act set forth in Title 9 of the U.S. Code to the fullest extent possible, regardless of the origin or nature of the Claims at issue. This Arbitration Provision does not prevent you from submitting any issue relating to your accounts for review or consideration by a federal, state, or local governmental agency or entity, nor does it prevent such agency or entity from seeking relief on your behalf. This Arbitration Provision shall not apply to: (i) Claims that are initiated in or transferred to small claims court (or comparable court of limited monetary jurisdiction); or (ii) any Claims where arbitration is prohibited by law.

1. Selection of Arbitrator. The Claims shall be resolved by a single arbitrator. The arbitrator shall be selected in accordance with the Rules and must have experience in the types of financial transactions at issue in the Claims. In the event of a conflict between the Rules and this Arbitration Provision, this Arbitration Provision shall supersede the conflicting Rules only to the extent of the inconsistency. If AAA or NAM is unavailable to resolve the Claims, or declines to administer the Claims for any reason, and if you and the Bank do not agree on a substitute arbitration forum, then you can select the substitute arbitration forum for the resolution of the Claims.

2. Arbitration Proceedings. The arbitration shall be conducted within 50 miles of your residence at the time the arbitration is commenced or remotely by zoom or other electronic means if required by the Rules or approved by the arbitrator. Any claims and defenses that can be asserted in court can be asserted in the arbitration. The arbitrator shall be entitled to award the same remedies that a court can award, including any kind of relief that could be awarded by a court, including injunctive relief. Discovery shall be available for non-privileged information to the fullest extent permitted under the Rules. The arbitrator's award can be entered as a judgment in court. Except as provided in applicable statutes, the arbitrator's award is not subject to review by the court and it cannot be appealed. The Bank shall pay for any filing fees imposed on you by the AAA or NAM (or the applicable arbitration forum if AAA or NAM declines to administer the Claims for any reason), except if you are the claimant seeking relief, in which case you shall be responsible for the arbitration filing fee or whatever amount is required by AAA or NAM (or the applicable arbitration forum if AAA or NAM declines to administer the Claims for any reason), or the amount you would be required to pay to file a claim in the applicable state or federal court where your account was opened, whichever is the greatest. You will be responsible for your own attorneys' fees and costs. The arbitrator shall be entitled to award attorneys' fees and costs to the prevailing part in the arbitration if permitted by applicable law. Nothing contained in this Arbitration Provision shall prevent either you or the Bank from applying to any court of competent jurisdiction for emergency provisional relief, such as a temporary restraining order, a temporary protective order, an attachment or any other pre-judgment remedies. Nor shall anything contained in this Arbitration Agreement prevent either you or the Bank from exercising self-help remedies, such as set off or charge back.

Any determination as to whether this Arbitration Provision is valid or enforceable in part or in its entirety will be made solely by the arbitrator, including without limitation any issues relating to whether a Claim is subject to arbitration; provided, however, the enforceability of the Class Action Waiver set forth below shall be determined by a court of competent jurisdiction.

3. Class Action Waiver. ANY ARBITRATION OF A CLAIM WILL BE ON AN INDIVIDUAL BASIS. YOU UNDERSTAND AND AGREE THAT YOU ARE WAIVING THE RIGHT TO PARTICIPATE AS A CLASS REPRESENTATIVE OR CLASS MEMBER IN A CLASS ACTION LAWSUIT.

4. Severability. In the event the Class Action Waiver in this Arbitration Provision is found to be unenforceable for any reason, the remainder of this Arbitration Provision shall also be unenforceable. If any provision in this Arbitration Provision, other than the Class Action Waiver, is found to be unenforceable, the remaining provisions shall remain fully enforceable.

FOR MORE DETAILS or if you have questions, you may call us or visit a branch. If you have questions about AAA or NAM procedures, you should check AAA's website, www.adr.org, call AAA at (800) 778-7879 or NAM's website, www.namadr.com, or call NAM at (800) 328-2550.
